

My Lords and Ladies...

Welcome to the...

Fall Leadership Conference 2009.

We are thrilled to be sharing in yet another fabulous Fall Leadership Conference with you. Governors Judy and Darrell, the royal highnesses, and the executive council -their knights of the round table, have gone to great lengths preparing for Medieval Times. This weekend is a great opportunity to turn the apprehension of taking on a new executive position into one of confidence by taking advantage of the training and opportunities for personal development. Engage in all the programs offered this year so that you can be the leader your club wants and needs you to be.

Fall Leadership Conference is one of the best training and informative weekends of the year, and its great fun too. It is a perfect opportunity for you and your fellow club members to take advantage of a ton of Kin education at your fingertips! Not only are there a variety of Kin education sessions, but there are Kin members here who would love to share their Kin knowledge with you.

We know that the Mount Forest Kinsmen club has gone to great efforts to provide you with a weekend you will not forget. Remember what they said about being our slaves!! Make sure you take part in the fun and fellowship offered this weekend. Be sure to spread the plague of information you receive this weekend with all your fellow Kin Lords and Ladies in your kingdoms.

As your past Liege Lords we will have lots of free time so please make sure to stop by for a chat on dragon slaying or for a mug of watered wine.
